City close to lease of Campbell High

By ROBERT HOF

THE CITY of Campbell, apparently close to agreeing to lease Campbell High School, will hold a public hearing at the City Hall Council Chamber at 8 p.m. July 7, when the City Council hopes to make a decision on the matter.

Property managers were working early this week to put together a package of prospective tenants who would sublease the site from the city if it decides to lease the whole facility.

"There's enough interest to fill the space compatible with what the community wanted," said Dan Bryant, president of Babet Financial Corp. property managers compiling a list of possible tenants. He said it might "take right on into the summer" to get leases signed, but added he thought the city would have no problem finding tenants.

An advisory committee had recommended the site be leased for educational and public recreational use.

Councilman Rusty Hammer told an audience of about 20 at a hearing last week that those who had expressed interest in leasing the site include the YMCA, South Bay Tennis Patrons, the San Jose Children's Musical Theater, Lincoln Law School, Sawyer Business College, Adult Independent Development Center and others.

The Campbell Union High School District also opened five bids sent in for the site last week. Hammer said the low number of bids might have been due to publicity about the city's interest in leasing the site.

San Jose Christian School bid for one wing of classrooms, the Southwest YMCA asked for the girls' gym and the pool, Polytechnical Institute of San Jose bid for the whole site, a group called Overcoming Faith Fellowship Church bid for the auditorium and Valley Christian School wanted the whole site if it could eliminate the clause allowing annual cancellation of the lease.

HOWEVER, the school district is allowed by law to set aside those bids and negotiate with a governmental agency such as the city of Campbell without going through a bidding process.

Hammer said the city, if it decides to lease the site, would charge 16 cents a square foot to non-profit groups and 20 cents a square foot for profit-making groups. That would pay all costs the city would have for the site, he said, including a 15 percent vacancy factor and fees for Babet to manage the property.

The school district is asking $188,000 for the entire site, which includes major repairs and maintenance.

Hammer said 16 to 20 cents a square foot is the best school site price in the city. Bryant said prices in the valley run from 2 cents to $1 a square foot, but said the Campbell High site is worth 35 to 40 cents at least.

Hammer said he doesn't want to see a lot of city programs and other programs housed in the site that would set up operations difficult to move if the school district ever wants the site back for its own use.

He also said the city would try to maintain public access to all but the classrooms. The site also includes a pool, gyms, tennis courts, playing fields, an auditorium and a cafeteria.

He said the city plans to keep the open space for its own use for the public to use free or for organizations to rent.

Councilman Dean Chamberlin called the chance to lease the site "the greatest opportunity the city has or ever will have to get what amounts to a park" and other facilities. "It only comes once in a lifetime," he said.

Showing off Eskimo art and artifacts for a special program July 10 at 2 p.m. at the Campbell Library, 70 N. Central Ave., is Campbell resident Ronnie Winkler. The program, which features a variety of Eskimo artifacts Winkler has collected, is geared especially for children and for seniors too. Part of a series for seniors and others in July, the program will be held in the community room downstairs.

Surprise money to cut street lighting bills

By ANNE HOUGHTELING

CAMPBELL residents' lighting assessments will be reduced by 74 percent because of a surprise "find" of $92,000.

On Monday Campbell City Manager Bob Stephens admitted he had overlooked a $92,000 allocation for city street lighting contained in the recently approved preliminary budget.

The city first thought it would fall $124,675 short of money needed for lighting. With last week's discovery the deficit is reduced to $32,675, according to the city manager.

Residents' assessments under the new lighting district, created June 23, will be reduced accordingly by about 74 percent, according to city staff. The City Council OK'd applying the $92,000 to the lighting district fund by a 4-1 vote Monday.

Speaking of the $92,000 oversight, Stephens said, "Neither (Public Works Director) Joe (Elliott) or I saw it . . . no one saw it." Because of the oversight, the City Council went into public hearings on the lighting district assuming no general fund money would be available to subsidize city lighting, he said.

Stephens added that Finance Director Geoffrey Whittaker "just put it (the $92,000) in as back up and I didn't catch it."

A PARADE OF residents protested setting up the lighting district at a council public hearing last month. Stephens this week said if one of the protesters had discovered the city's oversight, "it would question the council's and staff's integrity.

"I'd rather admit the mistake," he said.

Because of increasing energy costs, the city staff several months ago recommended creating the assessment district to meet lighting bills. Provisions in Proposition 13 made raising the ad valorum tax to finance lighting impossible, according to the city. Since passage of Proposition 13, the city has subsidized lighting through general fund allocations.

When the lighting district was approved, Elliott said, the average residential assessment would be $12.50. Using the Public Works Department estimates on the rate cut, that average bill arriving with property tax bills would be around $3.25.

The new assessments will be on top of existing city taxes for lighting, which average $5 per household.

Councilman Dean Chamberlin was the one "no" vote on a resolution to use the $92,000 for the district.

Chamberlin said, "I feel we should take the amount and put it in the city treasury rather than into this district." He said the money might be put to better use than to modestly reduce assessment rates.

Council to review the impact of Ainsley plan on residents

BY ANNIE HOUGHTELING

THE CAMPBELL City Council will meet Tuesday, July 8, to review with residents how development of the Ainsley property in San Jose will affect nearby Campbell residents.

It is projected that the future development of almost 700 condominiums and a shopping area on a portion of the 83-acre orchard will generate 21,000 additional car trips daily, according to Campbell City Manager Bob Stephens.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in Campbell City Council Chambers in City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave.

The Ainsley property is on Bascom Avenue between Hamilton and Leigh avenues. Though the development would be in San Jose, much of the traffic would end up in Campbell, which has prompted involvement of the smaller city in the developer's plans.

SAN JOSE City Council last week gave its OK to a tentative subdivision map for the property submitted by the developer, Broadmoor Homes.

According to Stephens, Broadmoor has agreed to pay for various street improvements intended to cut down the traffic impact on Campbell streets. San Jose has directed Broadmoor homes to install traffic signals and modify median islands along Leigh, Hamilton and Bascom avenues to improve traffic flow.

Campbell has yet to approve those improvements formally, though tentative approval has already been given, Stephens indicated. Formal approval could be put to a vote at the July 8 meeting, he added.

On another Campbell concern, Broadmoor has agreed with Campbell to help pay for the widening of the Los Gatos Creek Bridge on Hamilton Avenue. The provisions say the developer will contribute to the city $50,000 or 25 percent of the cost of widening the bridge, whichever amounts to a larger sum.

San Jose and Campbell are still working on a joint agreement which would call for the cities to monitor traffic congestion near the development, Stephens said. The agreement would be a statement on how San Jose and Campbell could handle dramatic increases in traffic.

Flags will be unfurled at John D. Morgan Park this Friday for the seventh annual July 4th celebration. Civic Improvement Commissioner Joy Maguire, chairman of the 1980 event (above), has been working with her committee for six months for this year's celebration.

Baseball, mom and fireworks set for Morgan Park Fourth

JOHN D. MORGAN Park will be decked out in its patriotic finery this Friday for the seventh annual July 4th celebration.

The event gets underway at 11 a.m. as local service clubs and civic groups set up their booths and ends at dusk with the aerial fireworks display.

Special events and entertainment begin at the stage area at noon with a Tai Kwon Do exhibition and games, from old-fashioned relay races and a watermelon-eating contest to modern games such as Earthball and Hunker-Hauser, will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. in the middle of the park.

For those who enjoy quieter activities there will be a "quiet game area" for seniors and others, provided by Community Services and sports fans can watch the annual slow-pitch softball battle between the City Council and Chamber of Commerce at 4 p.m. on the Pony League field.

THE LARGE vacant lot adjacent to Morgan Park on West Rincon Avenue will again be available for parking, according to John Burns, Director of the County Housing Authority. That group will begin construction of a 200-unit senior citizen housing complex on the site as soon as final federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) approval of plans is received.

As in past years, no fireworks, including "safe and sane" fireworks and sparklers, will be allowed at the park.

Barbecue pits are still at a premium at Morgan Park so if you don't arrive early, plan to bring your own (making sure the small, portable barbecues don't injure the turf) or buy your Fourth of July fare from one of the food booths that will be set up on the court area behind Campbell Junior High School.

The Chamber of Commerce will have a central information booth manned and the Campbell Fire Department will have a tent set up for first aid treatment.

New games planned for this year include a Child Calling Contest — for all moms in attendance and a Needle in a Haystack tourney for youngsters under seven years of age.

For more information about the event contact Tara Adams weekdays at City Hall, 378-8141.

Two arrested on attempted murder, robbery charges

Two persons are facing charges of attempted murder and armed robbery stemming from a foiled try June 24 at robbing La Fonda Mexican Restaurant, 200 S. Bascom Ave.

According to Campbell Police Sergeant Bob Wallace, Richard Dennis Gamache and Natalie Haviland were arrested near Camden Avenue in Campbell after Campbell police officers and sheriff's deputies chased the pair from the Campbell restaurant to San Jose and back again via Highway 17.

Three sheriff's deputies were slightly wounded by shattered glass, buckshot pellets and projectile burns in the chase during which the fleeing pair fired several shots, according to Barbara Rodriguez of the Sheriff's Department.

Gamache and Haviland, who also gave her name as Natalie Haviland Gamache, were arraigned June 26, Rodriguez said.

The incident started about 2 p.m. when Gamache entered La Fonda, pointed a handgun at the manager's head and demanded money. When the manager told Gamache there was nothing in the cash register, the suspect made off with the manager's wallet, also empty, according to Wallace.

Nearly 30 patrol cars from the Sheriff's Department and municipal police forces were involved at some time in the pursuit of the pair, Wallace said.

When they caught up with the suspects near the Camden Avenue exit, "the place looked like a parking lot," he commented.

Space travel was exciting, but he'd still rather teach

WEST Valley College business instructor Jerry Schloss couldn't wait to volunteer when he heard NASA wanted older men to test how they could tolerate space travel.

When he came to the briefing, however, all he heard about was risks involved with the tests, like strokes and heart attacks. But he was so determined that he dropped 20 pounds in two weeks so he could pass a physical to be accepted.

Schloss, 65, got involved after he heard a radio talk show explaining how NASA wanted volunteers to test for its space shuttle. Also, he says, "I'm retired from the Air Force and it's in my blood. I wanted to try something exciting and active."

ALONG WITH 19 other men picked from a field of 50 volunteers, Schloss went through a series of experiments, including some time in a space capsule simulator, or centrifuge, that's like a giant blender — with a human inside.

Suited up in a G-suit (gravity suit) that can be inflated to counter gravity during reentry, he was strapped into the centrifuge and hooked up to various monitors. He kept in contact with the research team with a TV camera focused on his face and with a microphone.

The idea was to push a button placed in one hand every time a green light above him came on, while researchers spun him around to simulate space travel. The speed with which he did it determined whether too much blood was being forced from his brain, a condition that can cause dizziness and even death.

HE DIDN'T feel much until he hit two and a half Gs (two and a half times the force of gravity on Earth).

"I could feel the blood being drawn to my feet and the skin on my face pulling down. When I licked my lips, I even had trouble closing them again as gravity stretched them out and vertigo (intense dizziness swept over me," he said.

"But what was worse, I realized that my bladder was rapidly approaching crisis." When the researchers said they were trying 3Gs, he said, "Wait a minute, you forgot to tell me to go before I put this suit on."

BUT HE decided to tough it out and he made it, prompting a round of applause from the researchers.

"So this was what astronauts had to go through," he said.

Though he's glad he participated, he's looking forward to getting back to the classroom.

"I thought teaching was stressful, but on second thought it's not as stressful as I thought."

BARBECUED SALMON STEAKS
(California Wine Institute)

6 salmon steaks each 1 to 2 inches thick
1 cup rose wine
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram
½ teaspoon onion powder
1/16 teaspoon pepper
seasoned salt

Salmon steaks 1 inch in thickness will cook on your grill in about 10 minutes, allowing 5 minutes on each side. A 1½-inch steak requires 7 minutes, and a 2-inch steak about 10 minutes on each side. If baked or broiled in an oven the necessary time is less as the steaks cook on both sides at once. Test for doneness with a fork.

Combine the wine, marjoram, onion powder and pepper, and pour over uncooked salmon in a shallow glass or enamelware pan. The amounts of seasoning in the marinade can be increased to your taste. Use more marinade if necessary to cover the salmon steaks. Refrigerate for several hours, turning salmon once or twice. Drain well. Barbecue or broil, sprinkling with seasoned salt as the salmon cooks. Makes 6 servings.

Righter House first to get historical status

By
ANNE HOUGHTELING

AN UNASSUMING house on El Patio Drive recently became a Campbell first. The 1896 house with bay windows last month became the first structure in the city to be granted designation as having historical importance under a year-old city ordinance.

The Righter House, 599 El Patio Dr., was recommended for historical status by the city's Historical Preservation Board, set up under the ordinance passed in May, 1979 by the City Council.

That recommendation was the first time the board so acted since it started meeting regularly in November.

Board chairman Don Hebard, former Campbell Planning Commissioner, says the creation of the five-member board reflected a growth of interest in Campbell's past.

"There seems to be an increase in interest in history," Hebard says.

THE GROWING interest was sparked, in part, by concern over the future of the Campbell Grammar School, he notes. Last year, the possibility that the school could be lost "made people think we could lose something important to our culture," he says. (The school has since made it onto the National Register of Historic Places).

The recent closings of Campbell High School and the Campbell Water Company again have made people aware of how Campbell must act to preserve pieces of the past, he says.

Hebard admits: "Compared to Los Gatos, we don't have the number of buildings deep in historical interest. But that only makes it more important that we retain what we do have."

THE BOARD was alerted to the case of the Righter House by the Civic Improvement Commission. At one point, the owner had considered demolishing the house. Now, owner Carl Franklin is restoring the house and selling it along with four new houses he plans to build on its one and one-fourth acre lot.

The board judged the house to be a historical milestone because F.M. Righter, the first owner, was a prominent early Campbellite. The fact that the house was built by George Whitney, dubbed the "builder of Campbell," also weighed heavily in its being judged as a key to the city's past.

"The Righter House is not a Montecello or a Frank Lloyd Wright house," Hebard says. "But it architecturally represents an era of Campbell and the builder himself."

THE BOARD'S principle powers are those of persuasion, Hebard says. The civic improvement or planning commissions, the City Council or property owner may make a proposal to the board that a structure be granted the historical designation. The board's opinion is advisory to the city Council.

Getting the designation may help property owners in applying for state and national historical lists, rehabilitation grants and tax breaks for restoration work, Hebard says.

Last month, the City Council approved the board's request for more review powers than those in the 1979 ordinance. Now, all applications for changes in or demolition of the 450 structures on Campbell's historical survey list must be forwarded to the board. Previously, the board was empowered only to review applications on buildings already designated landmarks.

Hebard thinks the board's new power of review is a way of avoiding "a building with real importance slipping through the process."

Compiler of the list, Tom King, historical resources assistant at the Campbell Museum, considers the board's recommendation for more review power as a way of saying, "Hey, we can't do our job unless we know what's going on." Under the new provision, the board can get that overview, King says.

THE 450 structures on the historic survey list were chosen to represent the various historic and architectural styles and periods. Hebard comments: "There's a misinterpretation by builders and developers and people in the city about what those 450 buildings are. The (erroneous) idea is that there are 450 buildings in the city that no one can touch without an Act of Congress."

To put the 450 in proportion, Campbell has a total of 5,479 single family houses and 745 commercial buildings, according to the Building Department.

Persons coming to City Hall for building permits are usually not happy to find out they have to go through additional reviews if their house is on the city's historical survey list, says Building Official Wally Bryon.

Bryon recently had to tell a resident that his application would have to undergo more review because his house is one of the 450. "Let's just say his reaction was unfavorable," Bryon says.

CARL Franklin, owner of the Righter House, says he has mixed feelings about the historical review process.

While stressing he had "no problems saving the house," Franklin says the review process itself was annoying.

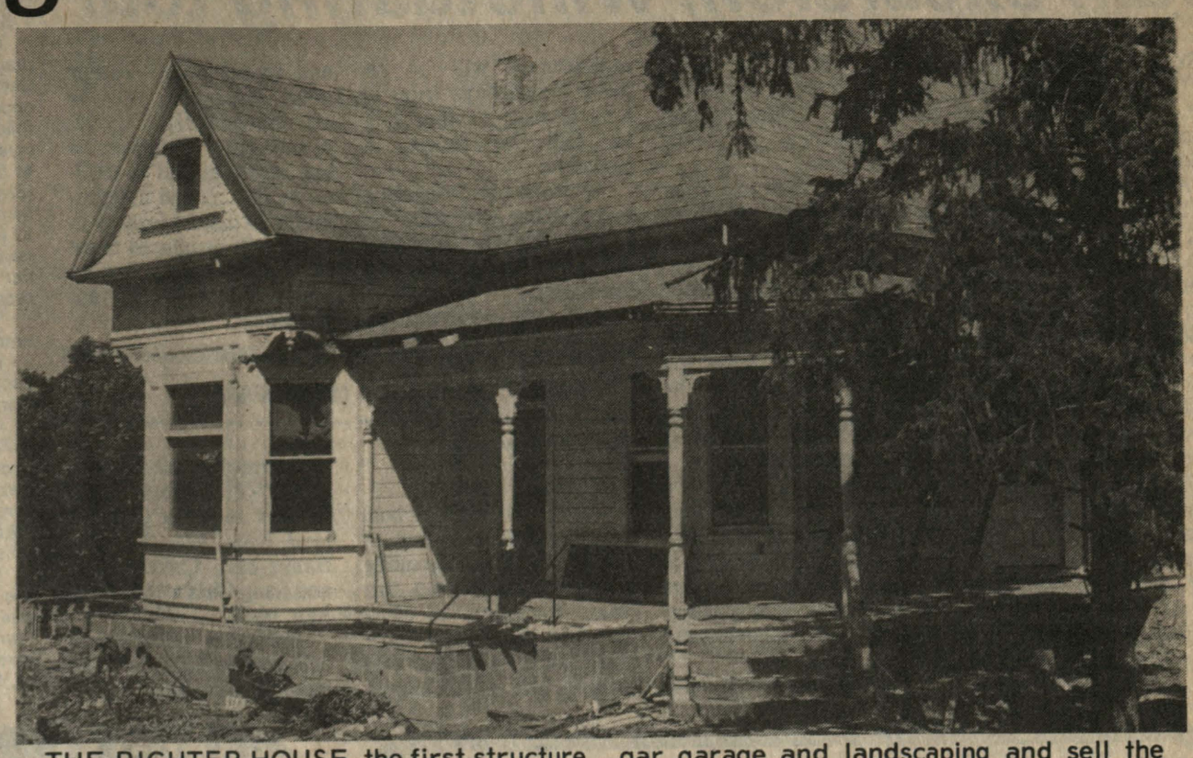
"It cost me three or four months with the city bouncing the project around," Franklin says. He concedes, though, that his case may have been drawn out because it was the first the board had considered.

"I probably was the test case," he says.

Franklin, a builder and developer, stands in contrast with Hebard when it comes to historical preservation. "It's just a small few who are interested in history," he says. "Most people would rather see a new development."

King says he is enthusiastic about the Righter House and its new designation.

"With the Righter House, it turned out great," he says. "He (the owner) is probably going to sell it for more than he could before and it gave him the nudge to fix it up."



THE RIGHTER HOUSE, the first structure to gain Campbell's historical designation, is undergoing restoration to reveal its original facade. The developer plans to add a two-gar garage and landscaping and sell the house along with four new houses he intends to build on the 1¼ acre lot.

THE CHALLENGE: To admit that matter has no natural attraction for other matter - as such, if our planet were constructed of solid-platinum, that man would be weightless upon such a planet.

We must consider the Cavendish experiments in order to fairly evaluate the question of matter having a natural attraction for other matter. Cavendish, with his apparatus and his solid lead balls claimed to have measured slight attractions between the lead balls when they were placed closely to each other. Thus Cavendish announced that matter does have a natural attraction for other matter. However, such attractions were most difficult to detect because the predominant force on the lead balls was the gravitational attraction of the earth itself.

Contemplating the above, and if matter does have a natural attraction for other matter, then shouldn't we expect that in the weightless environment of deep space (where the earth's gravity is not a factor) that such natural attractions would be greatly magnified? Wouldn't Cavendish's lead balls come directly together when the only force upon them is the "natural" attraction?

Surely it must be clear to all readers that if the natural attraction existed, the weightless environment would literally shout such evidence to us. But isn't it true that the weightless environment unequivocally proves that no such natural attraction exists? As such we must admit that the Cavendish attractions reveal nothing causitive regarding the force in nature which we call gravity.

If Newton, Einstein & Cavendish were alive today, they would have the integrity to admit their errors - so, how about it physicists? Isn't it true that matter really doesn't have a natural attraction for other matter? And therefore, isn't it true as I have stated in my book, that if our planet were constructed of solid lead that the (nuclear molecular) substance known as man would be weightless in the vicinity of such a planet?

In fact, isn't it true that all substance would be weightless in the vicinity of a planet that was constructed of any singular substance? And isn't it true that gravity is really caused by the "ordering of mass process" in which nature is clearly engaged? And isn't it also true that since matter has no natural attraction for other matter, and that stars are powerful gravitational environments, that stars could not possibly be predominately constructed of helium & hydrogen - regardless of the density of such compositions?

Tigers romp to pair of wins over Angels

THE WHEEL-A-WAY Tigers had their hitting shoes on last week in the Campbell Bobby Sox League's minor division, unfortunately for the Nob Hill Foods Angels.

The Tigers, paced by the slugging of Anita Prizzi and Rita Alam, scored a total of 39 runs in two games against the Angels, registering 21-5 and 18-2 victories.

Prizzi slammed a home run and three singles to lead the Tigers to their first win over the Angels, while Alam chipped in with a triple, double and two singles.

Lori Hughes chipped in with a double and a single, and Michele Carl added a pair of base hits. Lori Hughes, Raquel Vasquez and winning pitcher Marta Mortensen contributed one hit apiece.

In the Tigers' second victory, Alam clubbed a home run and a single to pace the winning attack. Carl lashed three hits and Dorothy Hall, Prizzi and Hughes each added one.

In other minor division action, the Allied Electric Orioles stormed to a 25-15 win over the Gold Dust Custom Jewelry Twins 25-15.

Dana Lucky drilled a homer and two doubles in the loss for the Twins. Billie Jones belted a pair of singles and turned in an unassisted doubleplay.

Robins, Plaza share first

Sullivan's bunt lifts Optimist past Breuners

IT WAS LIKE Sugar Ray Leonard against Roberto Duran. Like Joe Frazier facing Muhammad Ali. Jack Dempsey battling Gene Tunney. The irresistible force meeting the immovable object.

Like Kevin Christian and James Sullivan pitching against each other.

The two Campbell Little League major division hurlers, Christian of Breuners and Sullivan of Willow Glen Optimist, were evenly matched throughout their recent meeting, as Sullivan tossed six innings of no-hit ball, striking out 11. Christian, on the other side of the coin, was touched for only two hits. But neither team scored.

Into extra innings they went. Christian came to bat in the lead-off role and doubled for Breuners, which Ruben Ruybal followed with an RBI single. After Ruybal moved up on outs, Bucky Richards singled to make it 2-0.

The Optimists surged back with a John Torres single, an error that placed Steve Baker on first and a base hit by Eric Miller to tie the game at 2-2. Miller advanced to third base on two passed balls and then scored the winning run on Sullivan's bunt single.

LEAGUE STANDINGS currently show Campbell Plaza and Robins tied for first place going into the play-offs.

Plaza tapped Breuners for a 3-2 win, coming back with a run in the seventh inning to break the deadlock caused by Ruybal's two-run double early in the game.

The Optimists, powered by Sullivan's five-hit, 11 strike-out pitching, beat Robins 4-3. Craig Middlekauff threw a 13 strike-out two-hitter in a losing cause.

Earlier, Robins defeated D's Automotive 8-3. Mike Watari of Robins had a solo homer in the game.

Optimist was stopped by Doetsch Building 3-0, victims of a Troy Buckley two-hitter. The Builders' runs came on consecutive hits by Monte Bippis, Chris Bailey, Kevin Agliolo, Dave Havens and Buckley.

D's Automotive fell prey to Fontanetti's with an 11-10 loss. Vince Washington cleared the bases with a three-run triple in Fontanetti's seven-run fifth inning. Mike Ortiz also had two doubles for the winners.

Breuners scored all of their runs in the second inning of their 4-3 triumph over the Optimists. A Ryan Phillips triple with the bases loaded was the crowning blow for the winners.

In their push toward the division crown, Robins earlier beat Moose 8-2. Middlekauff hit one out with two men on and Jeff Hambro hit a solo shot for Robins.

Prior to the win, Middlekauff three-hit Breuners 11-1.

Prior to that win, Middlekauff three-hit Breuners 11-1. Frank Saunders and Matt Cavender had triples in the winner's eight-run second inning.

DOETSCH NOTCHED a 4-1 decision over Campbell Plaza behind the four-hit pitching of Bippus.

A double by Chris Bailey and singles by Gary Damron and Jorge Rodriguez keyed a two-run sixth inning rally for the winners.

Scott Lucas, Jim DiVittorio and Todd Shaw collected two hits apiece to pace D's Automotive to a 15-3 triumph over Fontanetti's.

Gary Blanco homered and doubled for Fontanetti's.

D's also posted a 9-8 triumph over Willow Glen Optimist.

Trailing 8-5 in the fifth, D's rallied for four runs on singles by DiVittorio, Shaw, Ryan Zamora, Mike Morgan and Gibbs to pull out the win.

Eric Miller collected three hits in the loss for Willow Glen.

Troy Buckley flipped a dazzling one-hit shut-out to lead Doetsch Building to an 8-0 conquest of Fontanetti's.

Buckley struck out 11 and was deprived of a no-hitter by Nick Tsamis, who singled for Fontanetti's only hit.

Paul Rasmussan's run-scoring single capped a three-run rally that lifted Campbell Plaza to a 5-4 victory over Moose Lodge.

Greg Gohr's three-run homer had given Moose Lodge a 4-2 lead earlier in the game.

'It was a very good year' for West Valley

STEALING A LINE from a once popular Frank Sinatra hit, West Valley College Athletic Director Jim Root must be singing, "In 1980, it was a very good year" as he reflects on the year his Vikings have just completed.

Because it was indeed "a very good year" for the Vikings during 1979-80 when West Valley walked off with the Golden Gate Conference's All-Sports trophy for the second consecutive time.

West Valley, the winner of five conference championships during the recently completed school year, edged Chabot by just a half point to claim the GGC award.

West Valley tied for second among the teams of the GGC in men's athletics, but won going away in women's athletics to clinch the award.

The Vikings won GGC championships in men's cross country and water polo and women's cross country, track and tennis this past year. The women's track and cross country teams, under the direction of coach Augie Argabright, went on to win state titles for the second straight year and the water polo team was second in the state.

GREG ASPLUND helped the Viking polo team to that second place finish in the state and won All-American honors in the process. He came back in the spring to win the state crown in the 50 free on the swimming team and also swam on two state champion relay teams.

Kris Bergstrom, a basketball and softball player, was named the Viking of the Year award winner for women after a fine year. She was an all-conference, all-Northern California and all-state shortstop on West Valley's Northern California championship softball team.

Legendary Haines to return to West Coast

By DAVID JACOB

Haines has the record of success, and is one person capable of turning the ailing club, with its dropping membership, into a national competitor.

His ability to recruit top talent has been proven by a past record of 24 Olympic gold medalists, including Mark Spitz, and 41 national champions.

At a parent-swimmers meeting last week at Lynbrook high school, Haines reassured the parents of young swimmers that he would work to have the best swimmers "at all levels."

"I care about young swimmers, too," he said. "You have to have a strong base to draw from."

This optimistic assessment, coupled with his appealing sense of humor and dedicated drive, filled the meeting with new, positive hope for the future.

In response to anyone who might assume that a nationally acclaimed coach might take it easy, Haines promised he would "be the first one to the pool."

"I BELIEVE in good discipline and fun. In the past," referring to his coaching at Santa Clara Swim Club, "we enjoyed swimming."

"When I coached football in Santa Clara, the athletes hated me during the week, but loved me Friday nights when we won," he exclaimed with a slightly exaggerated grin.

Haines said that he expects the parents to encourage their swimmers when they do well and be there to encourage them when they don't do so well.

Prior to Haines' introduction, interim coach Skip Kenney, who is the Stanford swim coach but is filling in this summer for De Anza, had great praise for the clubs potential and future with Haines.

"This club has the backbone to be one of the best in the U.S., it has a lot of hard working bodies behind it," he said.

Kenney explained that there is more to swimming than just going up and down the pool, and that Haines will be concerned with the athletes as people. De Anza is at the point where they have to step slightly back from coaching and begin to teach he continued.

Club president Larry Eischen said the club wanted a nationally qualified and acclaimed coach, who is not just a good swim coach but a strong motivator.

"THERE were many good people to pick from," Eischen said, "but when the name George Haines was mentioned the board approved to go out of their way to get him."

Offers to Haines began on June 2, reported Eischen, and on June 23 he accepted.

Soon after the resignation of coach Don Jacklin the club officials began "exploratory discussions" with Haines, according to Eischen, to get his recommendation for a replacement.

He expressed interest in De Anza, which was an arch rival of Santa Clara, but at the time was reluctant to leave his position at Foxcatcher Swim Club in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Haines told the De Anza members that he loved his home near Philadelphia and did not like to leave the swimmers at Foxcatcher, but for personal reasons it worked out best for him and his family this way.

With Haines the De Anza Swim Club hopes to build its age group and senior programs, as well as develop its athletes for their future lives.

In reference to the latter, Eischen told the meeting that a former swimmer under Haines, upon hearing of his possible hiring said, "He's the kind of person who if I ever needed a father I'd pick him."

Haines was highly recommended by many top coaches and organizations, including the Amateur Athletic Union and the American Swim Coaches Association.

LEGEND RETURNS — George Haines, who became a legend in his own time as the head coach of the Santa Clara Swim Club, will return to the Santa Clara Valley to become the head coach for the De Anza Swim Club.

In a story entitled, "Is there a baby boom in Santa Clara Valley?" last week, a county Health Department employee was quoted and reported as pregnant. That statement is incorrect and we sincerely regret any embarrassment or distress the article may have caused that person.

Teachers group answers article

EDITOR:

The recent Valley Living article entitled "Author Starts Area Summer Schools" was pure puff of a commercial venture at the expense of public education.

The only person quoted in the article, in support of his own Institute for Reading Development "summer school" program was Mr. Paul Copperman. He was also able to get in an unchallenged pitch for his controversial book, "The Literacy Hoax," which presents questionable statistics that damage the image of public schools.

In essence, Mr. Copperman created a media event that downgrades the public schools in order to promote his own "summer school" program. In doing so, he misleads your readers as to the real educational problems of the public schools, which cannot be solved by the type of program he offers.

Your readers should be advised that for every charge entrepreneurs, such as Mr. Copperman, make about the so-called failures of public schools, you can also find evidence of the tremendous job they are doing under terrific odds. Some examples:

According to the latest report from the state, for the past 12 years reading achievement for California's second and third graders has continued a steady rise. Sixth graders are also up in all test areas. Twelfth graders were slightly down in reading, no change in spelling, but up in writing and math.

The Chronicle for Higher Education reported about a year ago on a survey of reading test results conducted by the Education Testing Service, the U.S. Office of Education and two other organizations. The conclusions were there is no solid evidence of a decline in reading and literacy.

Not long ago, Dr. Ralph Tyler, director emeritus, Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford, compared education in the U.S. with that of other countries. He reported that as a whole our pupils do better in reading and math than those of other large, modern industrial nations.

Also, he said, most of our pupils learn to read (80 percent) and compute (90 percent). Thus, three-fourths of them attain a level of literacy achieved only by a very select group in other nations. Yet, unfortunately, we still find about 20 percent of our pupils not achieving as they should.

Proposition 13 knocked out most of the kinds of full-time summer school that would help address the basic learning problems for this 20 percent of low achievers. Most of the parents of these youngsters could never afford the $155 tuition for one two and a half hour class once a week that Mr. Copperman's "summer school" provides.

What Mr. Copperman is offering is fine for those who can afford it. However, we deplore his use of questionable statistics aimed at giving the public schools an undeserved bad name upon which he feeds — unchallenged in the Valley Living article — in order to promote his commercial enterprises.

Drinkers' children talk topic

"Children of Alcoholics" will be the topic of the National Council on Alcoholism Annual Dinner, to be held on Friday, July 18, at the Sunnyvale Hilton.

The Honorable Jerome A. Smith will be master of ceremonies and will introduce the speakers, Claudia Black, Family Program coordinator of Raleigh Hills Hospitals, and Dr. Stephanie Brown, associate director of the Stanford Alcohol Clinic. Both are pioneers on the subject of children of alcoholics.

Susan Jones, executive director of the Santa Clara County affiliate of N.C.A., says that this year's theme, "Children of Alcoholics," was chosen to stress the importance of treating the entire family, not just the alcoholic.

For information and reservations, call 241-6903.

Handicapped get a new lift

The installation of a porch lift for the handicapped has made the main office of Catholic Social Service of Santa Clara County one of the first non-profit agencies in the county to be accessible to the handicapped.

The cost of the elevator as well as modifications of the first floor rest rooms were financed with a $5,000 grant from the S.H. Cowell Foundation and additional contributions from the building owner, Richard Geno.

Disabled persons wishing to use the elevator will ring an outside bell which will bring a member of the agency staff with the key necessary to activate the porch lift.

Catholic Social Service, a United Way agency, offers counseling, services, meetings and workshops in the building.

Consumers corner / Owner perplexed over excessive new car repairs

By SLIM INGHAM

Within 10 days of receiving my new Chevy Citation, I noticed an unusual noise up front that was accompanied by vibration. This was reported to the dealer but no action was taken for several months. After numerous other visits to the shop for this and other problems, a repair was finally attempted. Excessive play in the gear train was found to be the problem. A new unit was ordered, installed and also found to be faulty. Two additional units have been ordered, but they too had been mis-machined and couldn't be installed. I believe (based on my experience) that thousands of these cars could be affected. To date, this car has been in for repairs for a total of 57 days. The repairs have included burnt wiring, new water, fuel and oil pumps, fluid leaks and even engine block problems. I am trying to be patient and have given the dealer and factory representatives ample opportunities to correct the problem and they have been unsuccessful. The Chevy consumer relations people have been unsympathetic and unwilling to aid in the contact of the appropriate engineering and quality control divisions so I may gain resolution and a functioning and safe car. Where do we go from here?

Ron Barake, Mountain View.

Rather typical of General Motors-Chevy when a problem of this sort is encountered. Our (Consumers United) efforts to communicate with G.M. to determine if this is indeed a widespread problem have met an obfuscating stone wall. The same wall we met on the Vega engine problem as well as the C200 transmission goof. Should Chevy-G.M. not respond satisfactorily in a reasonable length of time, we shall expend every effort to initiate an investigation followed with a recision of sale action using the Magnusson Moss Act. The results of this suit will be widely publicized.

We bought a quality carpet that was installed with singular ineptitude. Our hall and front room had 4 highly visible seams and in numerous places the carpet had been stretched to the point where the backing ripped. This allows the individual tufts to come out and they do! In addition to this, the carpet is poorly fitted and shows gaps around the edges. The seller hasn't responded to our complaints. What do we do?

Marcia Venderlien, San Jose.

Consumers United will arbitrate. We have seen the installation and found it as poor as represented. The vendor will repair and re-install to acceptable standards with a written warranty or replace at no supplemental cost to the Vanderliens. The option to this is to return all the purchase including tax.

I live alone, work all day and have been burglarized three times. Believe it or not, the alarm system that I paid $1,400 for didn't work each time and the company that installed it can't fix it and will no longer respond to my calls. They have made 3 attempts to repair with the same man who appears, fiddles with the system and leaves to "get parts." He only returns when I've made repeated calls. Two to three weeks elapse between visits and he has yet to bring any parts or fix the system. I've got a maintenance contract with this company also and they aren't lax in sending their bills. How can I get them to fulfill their contract?

Myra Owens, Los Altos.

Our suggestion was to hire an independent to repair the system and bill the installer and maintainer for those charges. Myra did this, the installer paid the bill and refunded the maintenance charges for a 20 month period. Myra's insurance company paid for all her burglaries.

The new Consumers United publications, "Avoiding Rip-off in Car Repairs" and "How to Buy the New & Used Car" are receiving rave reviews from all except the car sales and repair fraternity. Send in for yours. They cost $1.00 each and a stamped self addressed legal size envelope. Enclose a note requesting which you want and send it to Consumers United, P.O. Box 311, Palo Alto, Ca 94302. Your requests are filled on the day received.

Olga / Make eyes; make good; make hay, Aries

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Cycle continues high. You make eyes, make good, make hay. Mars (your planet) marches into loving Libra this week and remains in this sign for over two months. During this time you marshal persuasive powers and get your own way. Perception peaks. Libra's Venus is an incorrigible flirt, Aries, so look for rising temperatures.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Moon glides into your sign (the 6th) and high cycle begins. Short trips, family visits, communication favored. If you're tied up in home port, Taurus, the world just may come to you. Study words to Aries for secret message. Week ends on warm note.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money matters spotlighted. Streamline budget, methods, figure. Moon sweeps into your sign (the 8th) and high cycle begins. Emotional debris must go, Gem, so grab broom and start swinging. Week ends on a squeaky note.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Energy builds. The old must make room for the new as fresh cycle begins. What has been lost is found. Communication with loved one makes your little heart go pitty-pat, and as Moon comes home to your sign (the 10th) high cycle begins. Week ends with a smooch.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Exaggeration and pomposity are your fatal flaws, Leo, but if you will get these two venial sins under control, your Great Big Dramatic Sins will diminish in direct ratio to energy expended. Penitential week ends on key of F for forgive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your internal computer works overtime. You set style, pace and course. Minor set-to may result in setback but by last day you're ready to set forth. and that settles that!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Vitality and inspiration low during first three days. Glide. However, when energetic Mars enters your sign (the 10th) you influence, charm and enchant. You understand intuitively how to 'tip scale' in your own favor while keeping both hands in mid-air. So . . . do it!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Moon enters 'terrible Taurus' (the 6th) and low cycle begins. To prevent outside forces from pulling you in wrong direction, keep one eye on road and one eye on rear-view mirror. If Gloomy Gus gloms onto you and saps you of energy, tell this twit to go shinny up a waxed pole. Week ends on key of B for buzz.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Cycle low. Recall the past, dear friend, but don't live there. Your brain (like any other muscle) will atrophy if not exercised regularly, so go to your public library and start working out. Week ends with a groan.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): After sluggish start, Moon sinks into emotional Cancer and low cycle begins. On same day (the 10th) aggressive Mars struts into indecisive Libra and quarrels may result. Keep mouth and wallet shut but eyes open. Week ends on pensive note.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Inner conflict can be resolved, Aquarius, if you will be flexible. Circumstances change. People change. Times change. You needn't be a sturdy oak all of the time. This week be a willow. Bend.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Ideal week to fling your bones under a tree and just watch the ants work or the worms wiggle. The wonders of nature surround you, Pisces, so take time to be awed. Warm week ends with a hug.

An irrepressible lady with an outrageous laugh, Phyllis Diller is considered by many to be the leading female stand-up comic in the world. ## Paint your vacation?

PAINT YOUR VACATION WHILE TRAVELING

Here's a great idea. Why not obtain further information from Judy Sherman's "Paint your Vacation" plan? Judy has been accompanying artists and groups to Portugal, Mexico, the French Riviera, Yugoslavia, Spain Italy, Guatemala, the San Blas Islands in Panama, and aboard a Fairsea Sitmar Cruise. You can see what fun an artistic group would have sketching, painting and photographing these exciting places.

As Judy says, "My art groups see more than other travelers since we look at things so intensely. The atmosphere of countries such as Yugoslavia and Guatemala remain unchanged by time and outward effects. The sites that I search out for each itinerary are so exciting that it is impossible not to be strongly involved in the varied subjects. As an example, the fortress town of Dubrovnik coupled with the minarets and mosques of Mostar and the Roman influence in Split in Yugoslavia offer a contrast of perfectly balanced subject matter for our varied interests."

"Guatemala offers excitement and color beyond imagination."

A trip such as this would certainly be exciting, especially since I am (of sorts) an amateur painter and love to travel — the combination is a 'natural' . . . tours for this year include a return to Yugoslavia in September and Guatemala in November. Yugoslavia will combine watercolor painting, sketching and photography while Guatemala will add weaving to this spectrum.

Beside first class accommodations, there is always an interpreter guide and a private bus to take the group to painting sites.

Who takes these tours? Students, commercial artists and Sunday painters (that's me!). Several non-painters, usually spouses or friends of other clients come along — and usually end up painting with the others.

Judy is well qualified, since she is a professional artist and was formerly a stewardess for Pan American World Airways. She has been conducting these tours for the past seven years.

Promotion of the tours is done by painting demonstrations. Judy also gives a show of slides of recent trips with a watercolor showing of how she works on location. Future presentations have been scheduled for the Rossmoor Art Association August 4, the Los Gatos Art Association August 20, the Palo Alto Art Association Oct. 6.

Bayshore Rd., Palo Alto (the first is so successful in San Francisco, universally acclaimed by restaurant writers). Have you admired the vast wine cellar at Chez Yvonne which houses a giant replica of the Eiffel Tower? Stop by to meet new owners Matt Chan, Karel Wong and Glen Dennee' who are keeping the old French charm, and adding better service and lots of friendly hospitality . . . La Baie, the Peninsula's posh new restaurant has not forgotten the old world elegance of Tea Time, served weekday afternoons from 2-4 p.m. in the lovely lounge with the breathtaking view of the Bay and San Francisco airport . . . Question: What handsome Chinese entrepreneur has recently become engaged? The wedding invitation list has already reached over 2000 guests — what a great affair this will be! Too bad I can't attend — it will be in Hong Kong.

The Great American Arts Festival

Save gas. Stay home. Try this downtown San Jose festival of music, food and art.

Tuck away your worries about the great gas crunch and plan to stay home this Fourth of July weekend. There's lots going on in your own backyard.

The premiere event is San Jose's Great American Arts Festival July 4, 5 and 6. This festival — jammed with fancy food, buyable crafts and foot-tapping music — is spread through 16 blocks of downtown San Jose (between Park and Fourth, San Fernando and San Carlos streets).

Promoters promise everything from a massive Indian Powwow to the twang of country music. Continuous entertainment will be featured on 13 different stages from 10 a.m. to dusk.

And — best of all — it's free.

Here are some of the highlights:

- Indian Powwow — 350 Indian tribes have been invited to an all-day powwow on Saturday, the 5th, in San Jose Civic Auditorium. Thousands of Indians are expected to take part, all wearing their traditional festival garb.
- Civil War Encampment — The Civil War Association is setting up a complete Civil War camp, with authentic uniformed soldiers and real muskets.
- Bicycle Races — At 1 p.m. July 6, the final event of the La Contienda bicycle race series will be held.
- Animation Festival — Three full days of animated films, film clips and commercials will be shown.
- Touching Gallery — A gallery created especially for the finger tips. There will be soft sculpture, etched glass, macrame, bronze and other art to delight the sense of touch.
- Music, music, music — Almost continuous music will be offered to suit everyone's taste, from rock to jazz to folk. Many of the area's favorite disc jockeys will be on hand to introduce bands.
- Food — Bring your appetite and sample food from dozens of international booths.
- Art-Crafts — Some 350 artists have been hand picked to display and sell their wares, including jewelry, pottery, stained glass, leather work, wood work, toys, quilts, soft sculpture, candles, glass and macrame.

SCOTT'S SEAFOOD GRILL & BAR has arrived in Palo Alto . . . it definitely has been discovered by aficionados of fine seafood . . . patterned after its sister restaurants in S.F. (already winning awards &, according to Restaurant News, they were rated the highest grossing restaurant per seat in the country). A glance at the menu convinced me that SCOTT'S SEAFOOD is here to stay. Example: Shrimp & Crab in a white wine sauce, Tagliarini with clams, fried Calamari Provencale, Fisherman's Stew, Scott's fish and shellfish Cioppino, broiled Alaskan king crab legs and much more. Open 7 days — 11 a.m.-11 p.m. except Sun. (4-10 p.m.). I highly recommend you stop by to enjoy the friendly hospitality, excellent cuisine & attractive light & airy atmosphere. More later.

Have you ever tried a delicious Dim Sum luncheon? If not, you're in for a treat and RUBY KING is the restaurant to treat you. They will be serving an extra special Dim Sum luncheon over the Fourth of July weekend & serving a dinner which includes seafood and MAINE LOBSTER. Why don't you make arrangements for a small party. RUBY KING restaurant is just like a beautiful imperial palace with food to match. Highly recommended.

A romantic dinner can be enjoyed at the lovely CHATEAU SHONE (Saratoga-S'vale Rd. at Prospect) — right in the midst of Cupertino, San Jose, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Campbell, Los Altos — just a short drive from any direction. CHATEAU SHONE is fast becoming one of the most popular restaurants in the area since their continental cuisine is delicious & the impeccable service is impressive. I've just been told they w/soon have a new menu which will incl. such as Chateaubriand, Steak & Lobster, Frog Legs & more. The decor is relaxing yet elegant.

On Sat., June 21st, I attended the christening of pretty Bernadette Rose Austin at Our Lady of the Wayside Church, Portola Valley, after which friends & I walked thru the Portola Shp. Ctr. & were amazed to find a charming restaurant nestled amongst the redwoods — the PORTOLA VALLEY KITCHEN. Sandy Montoya is the owner/mgr. It's simply charming & has been open for about 1½ yrs. serving primarily seafood — dinners range in price from $6-$8.95. They specialize in Cioppino, Sand Dabs, Rex Sole, etc. Cocktails, too. On Sun. you can enjoy a Champagne & Seafood Brunch for only $5.95 ($4.50 child). They'll be open July 4 for dinner only.

Northern Chinese cuisine was first introduced to peninsula diners by none other than our own CHEF CHU whose restaurant is located at San Antonio & El Camino, Los Altos. Diners drive from every direction to enjoy his Mandarin cuisine & Lawrence Chu is always on hand to greet you & see to your every wish. He & his waiters also assist w/your ordering (which can be tricky if you're not used to this gourmet style of cooking — it can be very spicy & hot, you know). An intimate bar/lounge has recently been added.

PRIME RIB INN'S friendly lounge is an afterwork oasis for Palo Alto businessmen & women. Big cocktails & mixed drinks are moderately priced & genial Mgr. Eddy Maraka provides the cocktail crowd w/platters of complimentary hors d'oeuvres: deviled eggs, fried chicken & some of the most delicious Mexican creations you ever sank a tooth into. It's a great place to meet new friends or rendezvous w/old ones. And it's the perfect prelude to one of the PRIME RIB INN'S famous prime rib, steak or gourmet saute dinners.

Independence day is this Friday, July 4th — and you can celebrate both Friday & Saturday nights by dancing to JIM MURPHY entertaining on the piano/organ & CLAY LANDRUM on the banjo at the ECHO. Enjoy an inexpensive dinner of delicious prime rib or some great $3.95 specials which JOHN BIKAKIS serves nightly. The ECHO w/be open all weekend to celebrate the Fourth of July — so here's a good tip!

This recession is a period in which some restaurants are tightening their belts, indeed, some no longer have a belt to tighten. At SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED you can still enjoy a great wine & dine & candlelight experience for less than $5. Experience this adventure, sense the thrill of a superb dinner in Victorian candlelight w/an unlimited super salad bar, unlimited french bread & butter, bottles of chablis or burgundy or pitchers of cold beer or sangria. A full service feast is served for only $4.89 per person. On Mon., Tues., & Wed., champagne is incl.

I enjoyed a lovely dinner at the GARDEN CITY last Sat. nite . . . their Tournedoes of Beef on the dinner spec. were tender & simply delicious. My friends enjoyed the Pepper Steak. We were entertained thruout dinner by PAUL PONG at the piano who was then relieved by BUD DIMOCK & his guest pianist JOE DAVIS. I was invited to visit the Sun. Nite Jam Session which starts at 9 p.m. w/percussionist KENT BRYSON & BUD & MARTY & many Bay Area entertainers sit in. Jam sessions are fun & I'm sure you'll agree once you become a part of the GARDEN CITY'S group.

The FISH MARKET restaurants are combination retail markets, restaurants & Oyster Bar (Snvl.-S.C. restaurant also inc. a bar/lounge for your favorite libation). Remember the FISH MARKET serves seafood fresh from the water just hrs. before — Filet of Sole, Shark, Tuna, Salmon, Swordfish — watch the blackboard for the daily specials. They even bring in Eastern clams & oysters & debone & filet the fish & cook over a Mesquite charcoal broiler (Mexican style). Both restaurants are open 7 days a wk. for lunch & dinner — highly recommended.

For a relaxed enchanting afternoon, visit SENOR PEPE'S in the Oaks Shp. Ctr. in Cupertino . . . located directly across from De Anza College. They have a marvelous Happy Hour w/complimentary appetizers & (get this, gang) "doubles for the price of singles." Happy Hour is from 3-6 p.m. Mon.-Fri., so let's make a date now. SENOR PEPE'S serves excellent Mexican cuisine & also incls. American dishes for those who have not been South-of-the-Border! Open 7 days for continuous dining.

What's more romantic than a lazy drive in the countryside along a tree-lined road, especially when they are towering redwoods, pines & oaks. This drive could take you to JAN'S VALLEY INN for a spec. continental dinner served in an old country inn atmosphere. It's nonpretentious, yet dignified in its own way. There is a comfortable, warm, friendly feeling at JAN'S that provides the right atmosphere for that romantic evening ahead. The lounge is busy & full of fun-loving & full of fun-loving people. Put this on your list.

Santa Clara Valley REALTOR'S REVIEW

A deposit receipt seminar is set for Wednesday, July 9, sponsored by the San Jose Real Estate Board.

"The deposit receipt is one of the basics of real estate sales, and every salesperson should know the form inside and out," said Paul Hirose, chairperson of the Board's education committee.

The Realtors' seminar will be held at the San Jose Hyatt House, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m.

A $15 reservation fee is due by July 1. Six hours of Department of Real Estate continuing education credits are awarded.

Guest speakers are attorney Herman Mager, County geologist James Berkland and Realtors Carol Rose, David Eisbach and James Carney.

More information is available from the San Jose Real Estate Board, P.O. Box 6270, San Jose, 95150.

Carol Ann Williams, daughter of Sunnyvale Board of Realtors president Lew Williams and his wife, Loretta, graduated from the Loyola University of Chicago June 15 with a Juris Doctor Cum Laude degree.

She won the Chief Justice Edward B. White Scholarship Award for attaining the highest cumulative average in the Evening Division.

Ms. Williams attended the University of Oregon, graduating in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree in English with a minor in education. She graduated from Fremont High School in 1964. She is presently working for a major law firm in Chicago.

According to the California Association of Realtors, the real estate activity in the state apparently nudged bottom in April and is now in the process of recovering from the cumulative effects of the Federal Reserve Board's lending constraints.

Based on the perceived response to the new, lower mortgage interest rates which now prevail, there is reason to believe that the market was nearing the bottom of the sales activity trough in April and by now has begun recovering from the Fed's interest rate fiasco.

In May, the situation was significantly altered and there are now reports of increased escrow activity and home shopper traffic which indicate the expected upturn has begun.

• • •

The Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed an ordinance requiring that solar water heaters be installed in newly constructed homes in the unincorporated areas of the county, according to Los Gatos-Saratoga Board of Realtors legislative advocate Carol Connors.

The ordinance mandating retrofit of water heaters in existing homes only received three affirmative votes with Supervisors Gerry Steinberg and Dominic Cortese voting "no." Retrofitting will not go into effect until January, 1983. The buyer will be the one responsible for the installation of a solar water heater.

A general discussion on "Ethics and Geologic Hazard Zones" took place at last Wednesday's breakfast meeting of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Board.

The discussion was led by Bill Murphy with Jim Matthews assisting.

• • •

Gabrielle Tiemann spoke to the Women's Council of Realtors June 11 on the topic "Foreclosure . . . It Could Happen to You!"

Ms. Tiemann is the Northern California Counsel for U.S. Life Title Insurance Co. of Dallas.

She explained the foreclosure procedure, mentioning how changes in the law this year affect the parties involved, commenting that title insurance for property in foreclosure is handled on a case-by-case basis.

Robert Schott, retiring Executive Officer of the San Jose Real Estate Board, was honored June 2 at a dinner at Paul Masson Mountain Winery in Saratoga attended by about 170 guests.

Schott and his wife, Leta, were honored with gifts including a gold medallion, scrapbook and flowers. Schott retired from the board May 31 after 29 years of service.

Ed Albers, past president of the Board, was chairperson of the committee that arranged the special event. Also serving on the committee were Ivan Earnhart, Fred Davis, Gary Rogers, Dale Ingalls and honorary member Cecil Silva.
